RFR scoops Magic Circle Award

Chelsea-based property advisory RFR picked up a big gong at this year's Magic Circle Awards, an event usually dominated by wealth managers and finance companies (it has nothing to do with magicians).

The firm, founded by husband and wife team Sophie and Richard Rogerson, was named "Industry Newcomer of the Year" at the Rory Bremner-hosted ceremony, held at the Grange Tower Bridge Hotel.

The annual awards were started up ten years ago to recognise advisors and wealth managers at the top of their game and are judged by a panel including some of the biggest names in the private wealth industry. Other winners at this year's bash included Deloitte, Rothschild, Withers, PwC, Maurice Turnor Gardner, Farrer & Co, C Hoare & Co and Macfarlanes.

Richard Rogerson, Co-founder, RFR: "In 2015, we launched 'The Property Private Office' to give full voice to the breadth of professional services we offer clients across residential property. This prestigious award is recognition of RFR's position amongst the leading law firms, accountancy firms and trust firms advising private clients and alongside the City's leading wealth management firms."
