THE PROPERTY PRIVATE OFFICE

We are delighted to announce that RFR won "Property Advisor Of The Year" at the Spear's Wealth Management Awards 2018 at the Dorchester last night.

The flagship Spear's Awards recognise the very best in wealth management, private banking, law, property and other professional services. Each year, winners are selected by a panel of leading industry experts from a shortlist prepared by the Spear's Research Unit.

Established by former City lawyers from Macfarlanes, Richard and Sophie Rogerson, RFR bridges the gap between the private client industry and the increasingly complex and unpredictable world of residential property. With an independent, full-service offering, and providing a consistently high level of advice across all practice areas, RFR has become (according to peers) the 'go to' solution for private clients and their advisors.

On the same evening, Spear's launched its highly respected Spear's 500 2019. The Spear's 500 is a comprehensive guide to the top private client advisors, wealth managers and HNW service providers.

We are delighted to see three of RFR's directors recognised in this year's guide: Richard Rogerson (CEO) and Sophie Rogerson (Managing Director) who are listed in the top 10 UK property advisors (where they are described as "Outstanding in Field") and Charlie Naughten (Director) who is listed as a "Rising Star". Overall, the firm is described as "as good as it gets in advising private clients".

Commenting on the award, Richard Rogerson, CEO of RFR, said:

"To be recognised in this way by your peers is incredibly rewarding. I am particularly grateful that this award acknowledges the breadth and expertise of our talented team across all of our practice areas. They work exceptionally hard for our clients and these awards give recognition to this. We are also very grateful to all the law firms, private banks, accountancy firms, trust companies and other professional services firms that we work alongside – to be trusted by firms of their calibre is an immense privilege."
