

A Decade of Distinction

We are delighted to announce that, for the 10th year running, RFR has been named in the top tier (“Top Flight”) of Spear’s annual Property Index.

As a firm, we specialise in only two things:

1. We advise buyers of high value homes in London.
2. We advise a small number of global family offices on their UK residential property holdings.

The index ranks the firm in the Top Flight for both.

The Index has special praise for Sophie Rogerson who has “advised on the acquisition of some of London most sought-after properties” with an “amiability and flair that has drawn praise from her peers”, she is described as “super bright” and “combines this with market knowledge as well as emotional intelligence”. A senior lawyer notes that “clients love her” with those same clients commending her as ‘superbly knowledgeable’ and a ‘calm and effective negotiator’.

Richard Rogerson is described as a ‘natural problem-solver with a rare combination of intellect, experience and emotional quotient’. He is commended for his role “advising a small number of significant families and family offices on how to navigate complex and strategically important issues affecting their residential properties”.

The Macfarlanes alumni and their firm, RFR, who are former winners of Spear’s Property Adviser of the Year award, are noted for their “ability to marry personable service with absolute professionalism and impressive polish”.

Sophie Rogerson

Focus: Search and acquisitions

Position: Managing director, RFR

Ranking: Top Flight

Over the last decade of her career, RFR managing director Sophie Rogerson has advised on some of London’s most sought-after properties with an amiability and flair that has drawn praise from her peers in the industry.

One observer says that she is ‘super bright and combines this with market knowledge as well as emotional intelligence’ while another senior lawyer notes that ‘clients love her’.

Richard Rogerson

Focus: Complex transactions

Position: Founder and CEO, RFR

Ranking: Top Flight

RFR CEO Richard Rogerson has built a solid reputation for advising a small number of significant families and family offices on how to navigate complex and strategically important issues affecting their residential properties. He tells Spear’s that families often view him as a ‘quasi in-house expert trusted to protect their interests and build an effective best-in-class team of professionals around them’.

Rogerson runs RFR alongside his wife, Sophie. Both former Macfarlanes lawyers, the couple are former winners of the Spear’s Property Adviser of the Year Award, noted for their ability to marry personable service with absolute professionalism and impressive polish.